

Greetings Dear Friend!

Whether we like it or not, consciously or unconsciously, we are growing everyday; and I don't mean just physically, but also mentally; our mind and spirit. In fact, we are growing more mentally than physically . . . Just imagine the medical research that claims human beings have over 60,000 thoughts a day!

The challenge, though, is that since people can only see how we look physically, we often spend so much time thinking and worrying about how to maintain our physique, how not to look like a failure, and how to impress others that in most cases, we don't do enough to enrich our minds and souls. This is why we have declared 2008 the Year of Passionate Growth!

A Year of Passionate Growth!

We have declared 2008 a year for great people like you to fine tune your thinking, harness more positive thoughts, make more inclusive decisions, perform more impacting deeds and reach greater heights in your Personality, Leadership, Marriage, Parenting, Spirituality, Relationships, Health & Wellness, Academics, Finances, Career, Business and Life in general. And while God Himself is Ever Ready to see you through this exciting New Year, we have also made our plans to ensure that you get the Life Coaching and Business Coaching that you need to Make This Happen, whether through one-on-one sessions or any of our numerous Seminars and Workshops.

If you are yet to identify and write down your 2008 goals to this effect, give it some serious thought, for in the words of Goethe, “The things that matter the most must never be at the mercy of the things that matter the least.” For your convenience and personal accountability, we are offering you a free Goals and Objectives Template just by clicking here.

How to Make Things Happen!

In January 2007, we published an article titled, “The 5 Steps of Making Things Happen – why some people accomplish way much more than others”, which, according to the numerous feedbacks that we received from readers worldwide, helped and continues to help people to realize their goals, dreams and desires. In the words of one of our subscribers, “This is one of the best documents on the subject of goals that I have read in a long time. I like your simple, logical flow but packed with solid practical advice. This could not have been covered any better. I am keeping this one for a long time and sending to some friends who will totally enjoy and appreciate this."

If you aspire to be even greater this New Year 2008, we recommend it again, whether you initially read it or not. Besides, we updated it with more thought-provoking exhortations. For the first step to greatness is a remarkably strong desire to know; then, the courage to act; time to reflect; and determination to consistently match forward no matter what. This is how great things were made to happen, how many people continue to accomplish way much more than others. To read this article, click here.

'Life of Impact' Series for February!

In February, we will be releasing another exhorting article, which will help you to better understand the common things that deter people from achieving their goals; things that, as a Life Coach and Business Coach, we have successfully helped our clients to conquer in their characters and routines. As you get exhorted and inspired by 'Making Things Happen', start thinking of those things that may easily engulf and trap you in your pursuit of fulfillment; those things that may easily deter your desire for greater accomplishments; those detrimental flaws in your character and daily routine that may slow you down while a New Year and a few other people pass you by. These are what we will be helping you to conquer in next month.

Thank You for Your Support!

We met all our 2007 goals that we shared with you last year, exceeding most of them in unparallel manner, and thus thank you for your words of encouragement, physical and financial support and consistent prayers.

Also, thank you for promoting our website, as we now receive visitors from over 62 countries, while our website hits increased by almost 300% from 2006. In the words of one of the recipients of our email updates like this one, "we are touching more lives than we know".

Finally, we also appreciate the numerous opportunities that we had to personally deliver our life-changing philosophies and exhortations in some organizations, schools, communal gathering and churches. In addition to the encouragement we receive from you via phone and email, we stand in awe of God for using us to personally touch the participants of Our Seminars and Workshops, thus confirming

All We Need. If we have not heard from you in a while, or yet to hear from you at all, please email us your feedback or kindly take the time to complete a one-question online survey by clicking here.

Our Prayer for You!

Once again, thanks for everything, and may 2008 be your best year yet; a year of Passionate Growth in every area of your Life and Business. May it be the year that you courageously and passionately climb whatever mountain, cross whatever ocean, bridge whatever valley, quench whatever fire that Satan has place on your path to greatness, your thirst for righteousness, and your desire for fulfillment in your Personality, Leadership, Marriage, Parenting, Spirituality, Relationships, Health & Wellness, Academics, Finances, Career, Business and Life in general.

We look forward to hearing from you soon As well as seeing you in one of our upcoming Seminars and Workshops. If you or someone that you know would like us to come deliver our life-changing philosophies and exhortations in your organization, school, communal gathering or church, you may contact me directly.
